DETAILED ACTION

Response to Amendment

1. Applicant's amendments and accompanying remarks filed 1/12/04 have been entered and carefully considered. Applicant's amendment is not found to patentably distinguish the claims over the prior art and Applicant's arguments are not found persuasive of patentability for reasons set forth herein below.

Double Patenting

2. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

3. Claims 1-15, 17-22, and 24-29 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-14 and 16-30 of copending Application No. 09/474579. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because '579 specifies that the secondary fiber is high tenacity cellulosic while the instant applicant is broader and does not limit the secondary fiber. Therefore, '579 essentially acts as a species that anticipates the broader genus represented by the instant application.

This is a provisional obviousness-type double patenting rejection because the conflicting claims have not in fact been patented.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

5. Claims 1-15, 17-22, and 24-29 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Tsai et al (5698322) in view of Takeda et al (EP 0801172) and either HTT or TBNF, as set forth in the previous two actions.

Applicant argues that the combination set forth above fails to teach the secondary fiber having a melting temperature at least about 20 degrees higher than the first fibers. It is the examiner's position that the claimed melting temperatures are inherent in the fabric created by the combination set forth above. The examiner notes that Takeda teaches the same secondary fiber used by applicant and that melting temperatures are an inherent property of a polymer.

In the alternative it would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art to have the secondary fiber melt at a temperature at least 20 degrees above the first fiber. The first fiber is a binder fiber, which is activated by heating the web until the first fiber melts. The second fiber is used for strength and thus it would be undesirable if it melted. Therefore, the skilled artisan would be motivated to separate the melting temperatures of the two fibers by at least 20 degrees to allow the binder fiber to melt and function properly while not denaturing the structure of the secondary fiber.
